SUMMARY

Passionate about AI and data science, with a growing focus on deep learning, computer vision, and natural language processing. Proficient in Python and basic frameworks (TensorFlow, PyTorch) with hands-on projects. I enjoy turning real-world problems into practical ML solutions, by data wrangling, feature engineering and building, evaluating end-to-end models. A collaborative teammate who communicates clearly and is motivated by continuous learning and impact.

Natural Language Processing

Python, LightGBM, LSTM, Visualization dashboards

- Gathered and preprocessing of 161,218 drug reviews from Kaggle; built ML models to classify sentiment.
- Improved sentiment classification accuracy using LightGBM and actionable dashboards for decision support
- Visualized insights via interactive dashboards to support pharmaceutical decisions.

Deepfake Image Detection System

Jan 2025 – April 2025

Image Augmentation and Processing

Python, TensorFlow, PyTorch, CNN architectures

- Built A CNN-based system to detect GAN-generated deepfake images; applied preprocessing and augmentation
- Robust detection performance across varied deepfake generation methods
- Demonstrated end-to-end pipeline readiness for practical deployment in security/verification contexts.

EXPERIENCE

Data Science and Analytic Intern

May 2025 – July 2025

Zidio Development

(Remote) Bangalore, India

- Led end-to-end data analytics projects (data extraction, cleaning, feature engineering, and modeling) to deliver actionable insights.
- ML and statistics (time-series, LSTM, regression) to real-world problems, with cross-validation
- Built and maintained scalable data pipelines and dashboards that reduced reporting time.
